Shelling of Guam Continues

U. S. PACIFIC FLEET HEADQUARTERS, PEARL HARBOR, July 20.—(AP)—Battleships, thundering for four straight days at Guam—one of the war sectors so gravely worrying Japan's emperor—that the Tojo cabinet resigned—have carried the unprecedented assault into the "barage" phase.

The term, often applied to screen operations for landing troops, was used on 15 straight days of bombing and shelling the former U. S. outpost in the Marianas.

"Our battleships, cruisers and destroyers laid down an intense barrage against defensive positions on the island," Nimitz said in a Wednesday press release which also added two new attacks by carrier planes, dropping 468 tons of explosives.

Wednesday's report covered naval and air attacks Monday and Tuesday on pillboxes, gun emplacements, anti-aircraft batteries, enemy positions and supply areas.

Rota Island, between Guam and Saipan, was hit Monday by nearly 80 tons of carrier plane bombs and returning fliers reported the town of Rota has been wiped out.

From the southwest Pacific, Gen. Douglas MacArthur today reported a growing bag of Japanese dead and captured. He added 582 Nipponese to the 787 previously announced as slain while trying unsuccessfully to break out of a British New Guinea trap west of Wewak.

Keep up Raids On Oil Fields

U. S. Aircraft Blackens Skies In Bombings

LONDON, July 20.—(AP)—In great, coordinated attacks on Germany for the third straight day, 2,000 British based American planes bombed a profusion of oil and airplane plants around Leipzig and another fleet from Italy pummeled airdromes in the Munich and Friedrichshafen areas today.

The skies of central Germany were blackened by more than 1,200 flying fortresses and Liberators and up to 750 fighters. An armada of like strength leveled objectives around Munich and from Saarbrücken on the French frontier to Schweinfurt in southeastern Germany yesterday.

In the attack from Italy Liberators bombed the Maybach shop, which makes tank engines, the Zeppelin works and the Lowenthal airdrome, all in the immediate outskirts of Friedrichshafen.

Fortresses, with lightning escort, hit Nellingen airdrome 70 miles southwest of Munich. A small formation also bombed Bad-Worshofen airdrome, 45 miles southwest of Munich.

Only a few enemy aircraft broke through the fighter escort to attack the heavies, Rome dispatches said.

Bombers Cross Channel
RAF heavy bombers streamed across the channel in daylight against the robot bomb platforms of northern France after bombing caves housing the missiles at Thiverny, 30 miles northeast of Paris, at dusk.

American Havoc light bombers jabbed against air opposition nearly to the Belgian border, hitting rail yards at Chaulnes, 20 miles east of Amiens where much German activity had been noted. Waves of Marauder medium bombers were reported over the battlefront in Normandy.

The Normandy bound planes passed over incoming convoys of flying bombs which continued to crash on southern England during the night and morning.

Bad weather restricted night operations over France but two German planes were shot down. British Mosquito bombers, in their eleventh straight night incursion into Germany, bombed the north sea port of Bremen.

A low flying ceiling hung over Normandy all day yesterday and chief operations in support of Allied ground forces were medium bomber attacks.

Tojo Out As Japan Premier

In Crisis Hirohito Names Two Big Leaders to Form A New Cabinet

By the Associated Press
Premier General Hideki Tojo, who led Japan into war against America and Britain and had been virtual dictator for two and a half years, has fallen with his entire cabinet and Tokyo announced today that Emperor Hirohito had ordered another general and an admiral to form a new government "in cooperation."

Hirohito's mandate was given General Kuniaki Koiso, governor general of Korea, and Admiral Mitsumasa Yonai, premier in 1940, two of the most powerful leaders of the fighting services. Tokyo broadcasts said completion of the new cabinet was expected tonight or early tomorrow (Tokyo time).

The choice indicates there will be no fundamental departure from the principle of military rule. Both Koiso and Yonai have been known as aggressive proponents of Japanese expansion.

The designation of two men is unprecedented and signifies a determination to combine all elements of the army and navy in a government to cope with the acknowledged peril of defeat by the United States and its Allies.

The announcements of Tojo's fall and the choice of his successors came in a series of broadcasts recorded by the federal communications commission and the Associated Press.

The ousting of Tojo was a sequel to the series of defeats climaxed by the loss of Saipan July 10, bringing American air and naval power within a few hours' bomber flight of the Japanese homeland and confronting the empire with what Tojo himself called an "unprecedented great national crisis."

McKittrick to Be Here Friday

Preceding the speaking of Roy McKittrick, state's attorney general, a candidate for the Democratic nomination for United States Senator, a thirty-minute concert will begin at 7:30 o'clock given by the Kroeckle band.

McKittrick will arrive in Sedalia Friday night and accompanied by Frank W. Hayes, well known local attorney, who is interested in his campaign, will visit as many Democratic voters in the city as possible.

The meeting will be presided over by Mr. Hayes who will introduce the speaker, and also the county candidates.

After admission to the Missouri State Bar, Mr. McKittrick began practice of law in Salisbury, Mo., was city attorney of that city for four years. He was elected in 1914 as prosecuting attorney of Chariton county and served three successive terms.

In 1929 he was elected to the Missouri State senate. In 1932 he received the Democratic nomination for attorney-general and was elected in the general election, he was also successful in this capacity for re-election to this office in 1936 and again in 1940.

He is the son of a country merchant, was born in Guthrie Mills, in Chariton county. His mother died when he was three and he was reared and educated by his grandparents on a farm near Musselfork.

Mr. McKittrick during World War I volunteered for service, but was rejected because of defective eye sight. He has one son Sergeant Rex McKittrick, now serving his country in the United States Army Air Corps.

Former Sedalians Are Reporting On Convention

Two former Sedalians, Raymond Brandt and Boyd Carroll, are among those in reporting the Democratic convention in Chicago, according to an article appearing in Wednesday morning's St. Louis Post Dispatch.

The Weather

Partly cloudy through Friday, a few scattered light showers today and tonight in extreme west; increasing and spreading over west and north Friday; somewhat cooler in the southeast and extreme south today and in the southeast tonight; highest temperatures 80 to 85 in the northwest to 85 to 90 in the southeast; little change in temperature Friday.

Temperature: 7 a. m. 63 degrees; 3 p. m. 84 degrees.

Drop 'White Supremacy' Fight

CHICAGO, July 20.—(AP)—Southerners suddenly dropped their fight for a white supremacy plank today after the Democratic platform committee turned them down cold.

"We have exhausted every means at our power; we have run out of steam," said former Governor Dan Moody of Texas, a leader in the bitter southern fight against the committee's platform racial plank.

Moody said the platform fight would not be taken to the convention floor. It could not, he explained, because the signatures of only eight states could be obtained for a minority report. Twelve signatures are necessary to do this, a study of the rules showed.

Capture of a Dozen Towns By the British

Rommel is Forced Again on Run in The Caen Salient

By Wes Gallagher
SUPREME HEADQUARTERS, Allied Expeditionary Force, July 20.—(AP)—Strong British armored formations under the command of a man who once was Marshal Erwin Rommel's prisoner have captured 12 towns and now are approaching Vimont, eight miles southeast of Caen on the road to Paris, supreme headquarters announced today.

Just short of Vimont the armored drive led by Lt. Gen. Sir Richard Nugent O'Connor—who was captured in the African desert in 1941 but escaped from an Italian prison camp—jabbed into battered German positions after carving out a four-mile wide spearhead south from the vicinity of Troarn, east of Caen.

Comparative quiet was registered on the American front except for local advances between St. Lo and Periers which took three villages, the supreme command announced. A dispatch from Associated Press war correspondent Hal Boyd said American patrols crossed the Ay river in the Coastal sector and other forces clashed with Germans entrenched in Lessay, western hinge of the Nazi line.

Fighting raged on a bulging 10-mile front from southwest of Caen across to the vicinity of Troarn as the British drove remnants of five and a half enemy divisions back toward Paris and the Seine. Heavy fighting was reported at the farthest announced points of advance—the outskirts of Troarn and near Vimont.

Rommel Falls Back
Rommel was on the run again, but it was not clear whether he was going to risk a major battle in the Caen plain. The Allied thrust still pushed ahead steadily although it had lost the speed with which it got off after the air forces shattered the German lines with an unprecedented bombing.

While British armor slugged into German anti-tank screens on the east, Canadians driving straight south from Caen swept through several villages, including Ifs and Cormelles, and at last reports were battling German units in Bourguebus, five miles below Caen. This advance secured the river docks at Caen for unrestricted use of the Allies.

Crewmen Killed in Crash of Bomber

WALLA WALLA, Wash., July 20.—(AP)—A Liberator bomber from Walla Walla army air field crashed yesterday near Touchet, 17 miles west of here, killing all 12 crewmen, Col. David Wade, commanding officer of the base, announced today. Witnesses said the plane exploded in the air. Bodies and wreckage were scattered over a three to four mile radius.

Some of the crewmen had their parachutes opened but evidently had bailed out too low. Only three bodies were found in the fuselage.

The dead and next of kin included: Second Lt. John H. Spooner, pilot; mother, Mrs. Helen Armstrong Spooner, St. Louis.

Guy Peabody in Rotary Talk

Sedalia Kiwanians learned considerable more than they ever knew about pigeons after hearing an interesting talk on that subject by Guy Peabody at the club's regular meeting Thursday noon in Bothwell hotel.

Peabody is a pigeon hobbyist who in the past has won ribbons and loving cups at the Missouri State Fair. He is well informed on the subject of pigeons, their use commercially and in the war effort today.

Will Hurley presided as program chairman.

Important Convention Role by the Women

CHICAGO, July 20.—(AP)—The women took over a major share of attention at the Democratic national convention today, their role never so important in a year when their political strength is at record peak.

Streamlined Mrs. Helen Gahagan Douglas, actress-politician and Democratic nominee for congress from the Fourteenth California district, tonight will address the delegates, the second woman to have such an invitation at this convocation.

Petite, brown-eyed Mrs. Charles W. Tillet of North Carolina, assistant chairman of the national committee and head of the women's division, told the convention last night that women throughout the nation have deep hopes for a victorious and lasting peace and prosperity which she said could be had by keeping Democrats in power.

Mrs. Mary T. Norton of New Jersey, guest at a breakfast given by national committeewomen celebrating her twentieth year in congress, told the six other Democratic women candidates for the house that "we are much wiser politically than we were at the time the suffrage amendment was adopted."

In her convention speech, Mrs. Tillet declared that "the hearts of our women are overseas but they are doing their thinking here." She has a son in the army.

Countering the "GI Jim" speech made by Rep. Clare Booth Luce of Connecticut to the Republican convention, Mrs. Tillet said that the rise of Axis leaders was followed by events "over which we had no control, this war could not have been avoided."

"I believe that the hearts of American women recoil at the tragedy they fear would result if the grand strategy of the future of this war should suddenly be placed in the hands of inexperience," Mrs. Tillet asserted.

"The one thing I have found agreement on among all women is that there shall come out of this war a peace that will endure," she said.

CHICAGO STADIUM, July 20.—(AP)—The Hannegan influence for Missouri was noticeable as the Democratic convention opening yesterday revealed that the delegation of the national chairman's home state had been given choice seats immediately in front of the speakers' platform.

A number of seats in the huge stadium were still vacant when Hannegan called the session to order — nearly an hour after the scheduled starting time — but the number of vacancies was not near as great as that for the first session of the recent Republican convention in the same auditorium.

Between the convention sessions yesterday a number of the delegates and other Missourians here spent their time on delegate hunting excursions in an effort to bolster the vote strength for Senator Harry Truman, for vice president.

James Pendergast, a Kansas City delegate, proposed that the Missouri delegation caucus to set up "organization" plans for soliciting Truman votes, but nothing was done about that immediately.

Auditor Smith Spectator
State Auditor Forrest Smith, called on the convention as a spectator, called on the Pennsylvania and Ohio delegations to solicit support for Truman, and reported afterwards that those groups seemingly were receptive to the drafted candidacy of Truman.

John J. Griffin of St. Louis, former member of the state eleemosynary board, is serving at the convention as an assistant to Chairman Hannegan. He confides to friends, however, that so far his knowledge of the nature of his duties is very vague.

Mayor Phil J. Welch has been named by Senator Truman as the Missouri member of the committee to notify President Roosevelt of his nomination. Mrs. Ralph Johnson, Osceola, has been chosen for the committee to notify the vice-presidential nominee of his selection.

Appointed to the convention committee on rules and order of business was Sen. Bennett C. Clark; to the committee on credentials, Howard Cook, Jefferson City and to the committee on permanent organization, Mrs. Ann Brady of St. Louis.

Mrs. James V. Billings, Kennett and Senator Truman are the Missouri members of the platform committee.

Named as honorary vice-president of the convention was the veteran State Senator Michael Kinney of St. Louis. Mrs. Clella Peak, Kansas City was chosen as an honorary assistant vice-president; Mrs. Mary Daly Boyle, St. Louis county, honorary secretary, and W. A. Holloway, Harrisonville, honorary assistant secretary.

Cancel Transfer Order Of General Greene

FORT SMITH, Ark., July 20.—(AP)—An earlier order transferring Maj. Gen. Douglass T. Greene, commander of the 16th armored division at Camp Chaffee, and his chief of staff, Col. Richard A. Gordon, to unannounced tours of duty was cancelled by the war department last night.

No explanation accompanied the cancellation order.

Confident of Truman

Backers of Senator Harry Truman of Missouri, however, conceded nothing—many predicting his nomination over Wallace on the first or second ballot.

Truman, who previously had said he was not a candidate, was quoted as telling friends: "I will win. I wouldn't be in the race if President Roosevelt didn't approve."

Truman himself told reporters, however, "I'm not campaigning for anything."

Asked if he had talked to President Roosevelt, he replied "No." With 684½ votes still unpledged and unclaimed, Wallace had 154½ votes claimed and 165 pledged outright—total of 319½. Truman had only Missouri's 32 pledged outright, with 589 needed to nominate, but apparently had been promised support from big city organizations.

As the convention prepared to renominate President Roosevelt and hear his acceptance by radio, tonight, the lines for the Wallace-Truman struggle were drawn by party leaders. These were headed by National Chairman Robert E. Hannegan, vigorously backing his 60-year-old fellow Missourian.

But Wallace, as today's first caucus vote and hotel corridor talk plainly indicated, made it toward the strategists who wanted to eliminate him as the chairman of the Senate's War Investigating committee on the first ballot.

Meantime, it was announced that the name of Senator Harry F. Byrd of Virginia would be placed in nomination for the presidency by Mrs. Fred T. Nooney of Jacksonville, Fla.

Wallace Forces Gain Added Support; Truman Says 'I Will Win'

By Jack Bell

CHICAGO STADIUM, July 20.—(AP)—The Democratic national convention, overwhelmingly for Franklin D. Roosevelt but battling bitterly over the choice of a running-mate, rolled ahead rapidly today with prospects a fourth-term nomination would be in the bag by nightfall.

The convention will hear Roosevelt's radio-borne voice of acceptance tonight at a time as yet unannounced. With hope of getting to vice-presidential nominations afterward.

Senator Alben Barkley of Kentucky prepared to place Roosevelt's name in nomination with a speech tentatively planned for about 3 p. m. CWT.

The credentials committee, after a three-hour debate, voted 20 to 6 to seat both contesting Texas delegations and give each group 50 per cent of the state's 48 votes.

CHICAGO STADIUM, July 20.—(AP)—The third session of the Democratic national convention convened at 11:58 a. m. Central War Time, today to permanently organize and adopt a party platform.

CHICAGO STADIUM, July 20.—(AP)—Henry A. Wallace, regarded by many as all but counted out only 24 hours ago, hit the comeback trail in his fight for renomination today while Senator Harry S. Truman, his leading rival, gained the open support of one of President Roosevelt's cabinet.

Postmaster General Frank Walker told reporters, "I'm for Truman."

Two other cabinet members, however—Attorney General Francis Biddle and Interior Secretary Harold Ickes—stood firm for Wallace. Biddle is a Pennsylvania delegate, as is Walker, while Ickes is an Illinois delegate-at-large.

Wallace himself was absent from the convention today.

Wallace's backers were cheered by addition of 16 Kansas votes to his column.

Kansas, its 16 convention votes previously unpledged, caucused and balloted to give them to the toutsed Iowan—possibly indicating a new trend among some of the previously uncommitted delegates.

Backers of Senator Harry Truman of Missouri, however, conceded nothing—many predicting his nomination over Wallace on the first or second ballot.

Truman, who previously had said he was not a candidate, was quoted as telling friends: "I will win. I wouldn't be in the race if President Roosevelt didn't approve."

Truman himself told reporters, however, "I'm not campaigning for anything."

DAILY WASHINGTON Merry-go-round

by Drew Pearson

CHICAGO, July 20 — President Roosevelt, who understands human nature better than some who have sat in the White House, knows that human nature loves a good scrap. A good scrap has been going on here over the vice presidency — a far better scrap than the Republicans staged last month — and everyone is happy. Here is the line-up of candidates for the job which sometimes goes begging, but for which today, with a fourth term candidate, there is the maddest scramble in history.

Henry Wallace — "H. A." or "Agard," as his intimates call him, has been so cussed and discussed that there are few details about him the public doesn't know — except one: his secretary. The latter is bulky, slow-moving, and shrewd Harold Dixon Young, as politically minded, as good at back slapping as Wallace is bad at both. . . . Texas is the heart of the anti-Wallace revolt, but largely thanks to Texan Young, Wallace is top man in the running, with by all odds the largest popular support (and the least support from old-line politicians). . . . It was big Harold who met Wallace in Seattle, warned him of the Washington conspiracy to get him to step out of the race, pepped him to stay in and fight. . . . If Wallace wins, big Harold can take a lot of bows.

"Dear Alben" Barkley — The senior senator from Kentucky has a lot of southern support behind him, plus some from the north. But he has one great handicap — the president isn't for him. . . . FDR has indicated thumbs down on Barkley. Reason, though not so stated, is Barkley's stinging attack on FDR when he vetoed the tax bill. . . . The president forgives a lot, but some things he doesn't, and this is one of them. He likes Barkley, gets along with him, sees quite a bit of him, but doesn't want him as running mate. . . . It is reported that the big liquor companies are for Alben. The Louisville Courier Journal recently has been kidding him about saving a fund of thousands of dollars to buy mint juleps, with singing waiters to serve them at Barkley headquarters in Chicago.

Justice Bill Douglas — No vote getter, but a great human being, Roosevelt probably prefers Douglas next to Wallace. If Douglas could win votes, FDR might prefer him more. . . . Born in Minnesota, raised in Washington state, Douglas worked his way to New York on a freight train, studied law at Columbia. . . . One reason FDR thinks well of Douglas is because he has the reputation of always putting the bird on Dewey. In Columbia law school, Dewey and Douglas were classmates — Douglas at the top of the class, Dewey nearer the bottom. In law class arguments, Dewey is reported to have shunned Douglas as his opponent. . . . Later, when Douglas was on the Securities and Exchange Commission and Dewey was New York district attorney, the latter made Douglas an offer to form a law partnership. Douglas declined.

Judge Sherman Minton — When senator from Indiana, Minton was a real crusader, a tough fighter for Roosevelt. He is popular with the politicians, would be popular with the people. . . . But since he retired to the cloistered obscurity of the circuit court of appeals, the public has forgotten him. . . . Minton might tip the balance and carry Indiana. . . . FDR thinks he would be a good man.

Senator Harry Truman — The gentleman from Missouri has made such a name for himself as a fair-minded, forthright prober of war scandals that the public has forgotten he was a product of the famous Kansas City Pendergast machine. . . . Doubtless "District Attorney" Dewey would capitalize on this. . . . But the general public believes in Truman; has confidence in him.

Governor J. M. Broughton of North Carolina is the only southerner who would have Negro support. As trustee of Shaw University, a Negro college in Raleigh, he voted to install a Negro president. About 30,000 Negroes voted for him for governor. There have been no racial disturbances under him in North Carolina.

Ambassador John Winant, former GOP governor of New Hampshire, has been one of FDR's personal candidates. But the party bosses have virtually turned their thumbs down.

Senator Joe O'Mahoney of Wyoming, keen minded and forthright is one of the best qualified men in the race. But due to the prejudices of American politics, two things are against him: (1) his religion and (2) the fact that his state has few votes in the electoral college.

Wendell Willkie — Hard, inescapable fact is that not one candidate listed above would add votes to FDR's ticket. Roosevelt himself would carry the load. . . . Furthermore, a good many would actually turn votes away from his ticket. For instance, when a friend mentioned liberal Justice Douglas to FDR, he replied: "Do we need liberal votes?" . . . Only vice presidential running mate who could add votes to FDR is his old political opponent, Wendell Willkie. . . . One high placed Democratic official remarked: "With Willkie on the ticket, we could close up headquarters and not even raise a campaign fund."

. . . FDR, when asked about Willkie, replied that he, FDR, could not take the lead, that it would look too much like a deal. But if there was a spontaneous move from the convention, he would be delighted. . . . Thousands of letters on Willkie have flooded the White House. The professional politicians are dead against him, so it's a long shot. But it's a winning shot if it gets started.

Enlisting as a Red Cross Nurse after her American husband had been killed in action, German-born Charlotte Moore undergoes hospital training. Her particular group is called "The Foreign Legion" and includes Eurasian Mali, Brazilian Juanna, Belgian Yvonne and English Elizabeth.

SECRET ORDERS

IV

THE great day has arrived. We have our orders. Orders which are as brief and mysterious as a kidnapper's note: "At 8 p. m. be at airport with not more than 40 pounds of luggage. Keep time and place secret."

We have second lieutenant's rank and are now Army personnel. Our whole Foreign Legion has the same instructions and 10 more from our class are waiting at the airport. No one knows what plane will be ours, no one knows where to go. Elizabeth is equipped with a Japanese grammar. Her guess is that we'll be sent to the Solomon Islands. Juanna's hope is Egypt and she is provided with an Arabic dictionary and a fly swatter.

A captain approaches. "This way, please, nurses."

He leads us to a plane and we climb in. The pilot is all wrapped in leather and the bit of his face that you can see looks frightfully efficient. Besides the crew and nurses there are five officer passengers in high spirits. They don't know where they're going either.

ELIZABETH starts knitting as soon as we take off. Her mother, who used to travel around the world, always knitted and never got air-sick or sea-sick, she explains.

"What is this supposed to be come?" asks the Captain, pointing at that indefinable white affair which hangs on the ball of wool over Elizabeth's knee.

"A parachute," Elizabeth mocks. "You don't look like the type of girl who believes in knitted parachutes," the Captain answers. "How do I look?" Elizabeth asks. But there isn't the faintest notion of coquetry in her attitude. "Exactly like the kind of girl I want for my nurse when I am wounded."

"That is what I think of you," a lieutenant says to Mali, who quietly smiles—and fights off her first attack of air-sickness.

Mali doesn't answer. Yvonne tries to draw the lieutenant's attention toward her, but as we have bad flying weather all her efforts crumple into a soft whimpering.

Juanna, who thinks that her husband is known all over the United States Army and Air Corps, talks constantly about him until the young lieutenant states coldly, "A husband makes a nurse less attractive. Only talk about him when you want to give the boys bromide."

IT seems an eternity that the plane flies through bad weather. Captain Peters, who is becoming more and more Elizabeth's Captain, tries to charm constant sunshine on her stern face instead of only little samples of a smile.

"I love your British accent," he says. "Tell me, have you ever been in love?" would like to hear "I love you" in British. "I hate to be in love," Elizabeth says. But no answer is strong enough to discourage him. "I am a trained tank man," he says. "I am used to shooting through Panzer walls."

CAN'T KEEP GRANDMA IN HER CHAIR

She's as lively as a Youngster—Now her Backache is better

Many sufferers relieve nagging backache quickly, once they discover that the real cause of their trouble may be tired kidneys. The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking the excess acids and waste out of the blood. They help most people pass about 3 pints a day. When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may cause nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning some times shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder. Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

Hails Democrats, Assails GOP In Conclave Keynote Address

CHICAGO STADIUM, July 20.—(P)—Gov. Robert S. Kerr of Oklahoma hailed the party of Franklin Roosevelt last night as the party of achievement and of power and stormily assailed the Republicans and their youthful standardbearer Thomas E. Dewey as untired and untested, broken by disunity, having "no program except to oppose."

Keynoting the Democratic national convention before cheering thousands in this great hall, the 245-pound, 6-foot 3-inch oilman-governor drew back the curtains upon a preview of Democratic campaign arguments for the presidential race ahead.

'Where We Stand'

The world, Kerr said, has a right to ask "where we stand." He declared:

"Our aim is complete and speedy victory.

"Our goal is a just and abiding peace.

"Our promise to a world of peace is responsibility and cooperation."

"Our pledge to America at peace is a government responsible to the needs and hopes of every citizen, even the humblest; a government which will not shirk or fail, but will fulfill with gratitude and fidelity, our sacred obligation to our returning service men and women."

Defends Leaders

The towering Oklahoman defended Roosevelt administration leaders against 42-year-old Governor Dewey's charge that they are "tired, quarrelsome, old men." He asserted the Republicans are "incapable either of learning anything or of forgetting anything."

He accused G. O. P. leaders "after World War I" of having "sabotaged every effective vehicle for keeping peace" and of major opposition to preparedness for World War II.

Cried Kerr, as klieg lights burned out of the lofty distances of darkened balconies upon the bunting-festooned speakers' stand:

"In this hall last month the Republicans nominating as their candidate for President the man selected for them four years ago by Herbert Hoover. As America looked on she saw the mantle of Herbert Hoover, not falling upon but being placed upon the shoulders of his cherished disciple, Thomas E. Dewey. What she did not see, but what will become more and more apparent, is that the mantle has become the shroud."

Snubbed Willkie

The G. O. P. convention, Kerr asserted, "snubbed and sidetracked Wendell Willkie," and thus "the last vestige of liberal leadership of the Republican party was buried under an avalanche of reactionary sentiment from which it cannot soon emerge."

The keynote speaker did not once use the term "new deal," except in quoting a poem. Instead, he employed the terms the Roosevelt administration, the present administration, etc. He referred to President Roosevelt five times as commander-in-chief—three times in one paragraph.

Kerr, saying he was out to give a report of Democrat party stewardship, summed up:

"The Democratic party has proved its worthiness of the people's continued confidence."

He contended the Democrats have done most for the farmer, for labor, for the needy aged, for sound banking, for small business, for the family home owner, for soil conservation—and it is, he added, the party under which the United States has become "the greatest naval power on earth."

Jack Potter, S 1/c stationed at Olathe, Kas., spent the week-end here with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jake Potter.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Potter received a letter from their son, L. J. Potter, A. M. M. H. 2/c last week saying that he has recently returned to the states and is again in school at the Naval Air Technical Training Center, Chicago, Ill. L. J. enlisted in the navy in February 1942 and for the past seventeen months he has been overseas. On returning to the United States, L. J. wrote to his parents, "I was seventeen days making the trip from Midway to Chicago and was I ever glad to reach the good old U. S. A." Seaman Potter will have a thirty day leave when he finishes his training and then he will be sent back to Pearl Harbor.

U. E. L. Parsonage Is Dedicated

The United Evangelical Lutheran church, of Cole Camp, has taken another step in its rapid development since its organization 18 years ago—the dedication of its parsonage at a ceremony July 16 following the regular church services.

In 1938 the congregation completed its new church edifice, built of native stone. In 1942 the Rev. W. C. Miller, S. T. M., was called as regular supply pastor.

On a large lot next to the church stood a convenient but old house. This was purchased, completely renovated and is now a modern home. Mrs. William J. Eickhoff and a number of other committee members were responsible in a large measure for the project's success.

It is noteworthy that there are no financial encumbrances on either the church or the parsonage. The W. M. S. is working now on another major endeavor—the securing of a Hammond organ to assist in rendering the liturgical services of the church more effectively.

Reds Fight Ahead For Big Cities

Nazis back 26 miles on a 45-mile front in two days and helped amass a total of nearly 1,500 hamlets and towns captured by Russian forces, was just another development in the war which shortly may see activity from the Finnish gulf to the lands just north of the Danube.

Meanwhile the Russian press reported signs of cracking German morale.

Another group of four to five divisions surrounded east of Lwow at Brody was reported surrendering by the hundreds. Red army men were rapidly rounding them up, but were taking steps for their complete extermination if any should follow Hitler's orders to die before giving up an inch of territory.

"I am sick of climbing out of one trap only to fall into another," declared one Nazi lieutenant in his captors.

Disputes said Italians, French and Yugoslavs had been liberated from prison camps where the Germans had interned them for fear that they would desert.

Disunity in Action
The Germans obviously had lost connections with several groups when the Red army smashed the Prince Eugene line east of Lwow and the fighting, while often unusually violent, apparently had little unity of direction from the German side.

"The Red army offensive," commented the Moscow News, "which in number of troops, material and organization surpasses anything heretofore including the offensive at the Kursk bulge, is proceeding so rapidly that the Germans have no chance to make use of even some splendid natural defenses."

Battle-scarred Lwow, hub of six important rail lines and in Soviet hands the last time in 1941, appeared certain to be lost by the reeling German defenders, who fell back over 13 miles in the last 24 hours.

The gateway city to central Europe, it is expected to be easily enveloped if the Germans choose to make a house-to-house fight. It is situated on gently rolling hills, surrounded by flat grain lands.

Hot Fight is on Over The Nomination for The Vice Presidency

to cast its 20 votes for former Gov. Sam Jones of Louisiana for vice-president.

Lining Up Delegates
Senator James O. Eastland predicted Mississippi's votes would be switched to Truman whenever it becomes apparent Sam Jones cannot win.

North Dakota caucused and voted to give its 8 votes to Wallace.

Chairman Hannegan said it was possible the convention would reach a choice tonight, but believed it more likely the balloting for second place would go over until tomorrow.

A prospective convention floor over the southern demand for restoration of the two-thirds nominating rule was averted, despite adverse action by the rules committee. The vote was 23 to 10 but the southerners agreed not to file a minority report and carry the fight to the convention floor after the whole committee unanimously recommended a study of reapportionment, a report to be made within two years.

Word came from the platform drafting resolutions committee that a racial plank was being considered which would declare that all minorities, including Negroes, have the right to "vote equally with white citizens." There was no immediate indication whether southerners would accept this language.

Former Democratic National Chairman James A. Farley, it became known, has decided to vote his opposition to a fourth term for Roosevelt by casting his New York delegate ballot for Senator Byrd.

The 58-vote Illinois delegation caucused and voted to go for Scott W. Lucas of this state. The delegation applied that unit rule and the announcement was it would stand for Lucas until released by its leaders.

A listless convention crowd, though again out in good force with delegate seats on the floor filled, had its mind almost solely on the vice-presidential fight and the southern and anti-fourth term protest moves. There was confusion and little display of enthusiasm as Senator Samuel D. Jackson of Indiana, permanent chairman, declared in his official address that he was confident of Democratic victory in November because America will "not vote for change, interruption and delay."

Wallace got some unexpected help from Secretary of Interior Harold Ickes, who was reported reliably to have sent the president a telegram declaring that Mr. Roosevelt had made a "mistake" in naming Truman as a second choice.

Ickes, who is credited with having once urged Wallace to get out of the race, now was said to be backing the Iowan strongly because of his "liberal" views.

The vice-president, who confirmed that such a telegram had been sent, has reiterated his intention to remain in the race until the last ballot is counted.

recorded attempts to assassinate him.

The most notable episode, developing from internal opposition to Hitler was in June, 1934, shortly after he had taken power in Germany, when he led the ruthless "blood purge" of Capt. Ernst Roehm and his associates.

Roehm's movement was described as a "rebellious riot" in the reichstag session which Hitler summoned to hear his accounting.

Tojo Out as Premier for Japan

most drastic governmental upheavals of the second World War, since his position generally had been considered abroad similar to that of Hitler in Germany and Mussolini in Italy.

Domei, the official news agency, indicated that Tojo had fought a losing battle for the past week to maintain his power. One of the problems facing him, said Domei, was the necessity of "enlisting capable men in his cabinet and renovating the cabinet structure."

He held a series of meetings with senior statesmen but failed and thereupon collected the resignations of all his ministers and presented them to the emperor Tuesday.

The mikado turned for advice to his highest ranking consultant, Marquis Koichiro Kido, lord keeper of the privy seal.

Designation of Koiso and Yonai to select a government apparently was an outgrowth of conferences which Tokyo earlier said Kido had held with many senior Japanese statesmen.

A Domei dispatch recorded by the Associated Press said the 59-year-old Tojo gathered together the resignations of all his ministers and presented them, along with his own, to the emperor at the imperial palace at 11:40 a. m. July 18 (Japanese time).

Whence Nicknamed Wisconsin is known as the "Badger State," not because of the animal's prevalence there, but because of the way men who went there to work in early times survived the first winter in dugouts, burrowed into the ground like badger holes.

Home Progressive Club Met Sunday

The Home Progressive club met Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. M. Licklider with forty-four present.

At the noon hour a fried chicken dinner was served after which the afternoon was spent in music and conversation.

The next meeting will be held on August 20, at the home of Mrs. Pearl Stevens, 671 East Fifteenth street.

Hamburg, Western

One pound ground hamburger, 4 strips uncooked bacon, cut fine, 2 tablespoons minced green pepper, 1 teaspoon grated onion, 1 tablespoon ketchup, 1/2 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce, 1/2 teaspoon salt, few grains pepper, lard.

Combine hamburger, bacon, green pepper, onion, ketchup, Worcestershire sauce, salt and pepper; mix well. Form into 4 flat round cakes. Melt small amount lard in heavy skillet; brown hamburgers on both sides in skillet. Saute slowly, turning frequently, about 10 to 15 minutes or until done, pouring off fat as it accumulates. Serves 4.

Spread horseradish over meat; add water. Cover tightly. Simmer slowly about 3 1/2 hours, turning pot roast occasionally. If necessary, add more water during cooking. Make gravy by thickening liquid in pan. Serves 3 to the pound.

A Notice to Farris Fancy Fryer Customers

Our Government needs more gasoline to finish the great task before them. Each of us is asked, and we should help in the solution of this great problem. We are willing to do our part by using less gasoline.

The recent allotment which the local O. P. A. Board gave our business is insufficient for us to carry on as we have in the past, and we are forced to readjust our business accordingly, and this we gladly do, to give the boys the gasoline they need to do a better fighting job.

Because of a smaller allotment, we will be unable to pick up chickens in the country, and we will have to depend upon the farmer to bring them to us, and the O. P. A. tells us they have given the farmer sufficient gasoline to do this.

Through this arrangement we will be unable to secure sufficient poultry to supply civilians through their favorite grocer as we have in the past.

We greatly appreciate the cooperation of your grocer who has enabled us to place our poultry upon your table, and regret that we cannot continue to serve him and you through this method.

However, we have readjusted our merchandising method so that you may still secure by driving to our plant and making your own selection, or phone your order in and your order will be held for you. We dress each day and store our chickens in chilled ice to insure freshness.

We are open daily and until noon on Sunday.

KITCHEN FATS WIN BATTLES, SAVE LIVES

Waste fats and greases from the kitchens of American housewives have contributed immeasurably to the success of American arms and the saving of American lives on all fronts. No more important aid to the war effort can be given than saving these fats, say officials of the Standard Rendering Company, official collectors in this area. These fats and greases supply ingredients for offensive weapons and explosives and for medical supplies as well.
The need now is for continued regular contributions, the collectors say, to meet the greater requirements of offensive warfare. Housewives are urged to save every possible spoonful and turn in accumulations regularly. Points are still given for these fats.
Dealers with stocks on hand can ship direct, express collect, or call for truck pickup service. Address Standard Rendering Company, 635 Adams, Kansas City, Kansas, or phone HARRISON 1545, Kansas City.

Or, place prepared peppers in saucepan. Add 1/4 cup water. Place on surface unit on high heat. Bring to steam then reduce to simmer. Continue cooking about 25 minutes.

Combine leftover meat with leftover gravy. Parboil chopped green peppers and a little chopped onion for 2 minutes. Drain and add to meat. Heat through. Serve on rounds of hot toast and garnish with fried tomato rings.

Mix ham, bread crumbs, and milk. Beat egg yolks slightly and add with the parsley, salt, pepper and onion to the first mixture. Beat egg whites until stiff and fold into the ham mixture. Pour into well-greased ring mold or leaf pan. Set in a pan of hot water and bake 1 hour at 350 degrees F. Serves six to eight.

Sports Roundup

By Hugh Fullerton, Jr.

NEW YORK, July 20.—If you hang around with major leaguers, you'll hear plenty of tall tales about the "good old days" in baseball and how kids used to be happy to play with a home made ball on a field grubbed out of a briar patch. . . And likely as not you'll hear that kids nowadays have to be pampered and won't play under conditions that the old-timers regarded as normal. . . In controversy of such statements, we present the following letter from Wendell Lalime, the Newport, Vt., sports scribe.

Read It and Weep

"I thought you might like to hear about the game the Baron Town baseball team played at East Hardwick the other day," writes Wendell. "Barton lost the game, 18 to 13, but the score does not necessarily indicate poor playing on either side. The condition of the playing field, which was a cow pasture, was accountable for the high score and many errors. . . The cows were not around at the time, but there was evidence that they had been there that morning. . . A hit ball which would look like an easy out would hit a bump and bounce over the player's head, far out of quick retrieving. Even the catchers had to run over a knoll after foul balls.

Special Talents

"The fence which surrounded the pasture was another bad feature," Lalime further explains. "Balls hit through the fence would go for a home run, which on any good pasture would not have gone for a double. . . Some of our Vermont ball players know how to hurdle the barbed wire enclosures, and in most cases of this nature a hit over the fence doesn't go for a homer unless you can make it. . . There were five pitchers, who had their troubles, too. They couldn't see the plate. . . The cows hadn't got around to do any grazing in that particular spot. . . Well, Barton collected 16 hits, Hardwick 24 hits; nearly every player on both teams hit safely over, under or through the fence.

No Apologies Needed

"But don't let this yarn fool you. Some of the most picturesque ball parks in America are to be found in Vermont, and Gardner Park in Newport has a top-ranking diamond. Barton's home field is located at the county fair grounds. Some of the smaller communities, however, are not as fortunate and improvised diamonds are not uncommon."

Disputed Decision

What was it those old-timers were saying about modern kids?

Fights Wednesday Night

ELIZABETH, N. J.—Tam i Mauriello, 204½, New York, technical knockout over Buddy Knox, 207½, Dayton, O., 7.

NEW LONDON, Conn.—Joe Popeski, 168, New London, technical knockout over Billy Brown, 170, Hartford, 7.

OAKLAND, Calif.—Jack Chase, 160, Walsenburg, Colo., won decision over Paul Lewis, 155, Oakland (10).

Old Belief

Our ancestors of not so many years ago believed that one slept better if the head of the bed pointed duenorth, in order that the body might be lulled by the magnetic currents that were thought to flow from the North to the South poles.

OUR BOARDING HOUSE with MAJOR HOOPLE OUT OUR WAY

EGAD, TWIGGS! WE MAY HAVE TO NAVIGATE BY DEAD RECKONING! IN THE TWO HOURS I'VE BEEN AT THE WHEEL, THE MOON HAS SEEMED TO ZIGZAG, ONE MOMENT OVER MY LEFT SHOULDER, THE NEXT OFF STARBOARD—FAP!

WE OUGHT TO RADIO EINSTEIN AND TELL HIM HOW COCKEYED THE PLANETS ARE TONIGHT —ARE YOU SURE YOU DIDN'T DOZE AT THE SWITCH?

I HOPE TWIGGS GRABS THE HANDLEBARS —THIS LOOKS LIKE THE SAME NEIGHBORHOOD WE PASSED LAST NIGHT!

HE CAN'T STEER WITHOUT LAMP POSTS!

Heart Attack Is Fatal For Jesse B. Greer

Had Lived On Big Farm For Nearly 80 Years

Jesse Benjamin Greer, aged 79 years, prominent farmer and stockman and lifelong resident of Pettis county, died at his home 12 miles north of Sedalia on highway 65, about five o'clock Saturday afternoon when he suffered a heart attack while sitting on his front porch, only a short time after he returned from a trip to Sedalia with his son-in-law, John W. Wall. He had been in good health and had not complained of being ill Saturday.

Near 80 Years On Same Farm

Mr. Greer was born and reared and lived his entire life on the same farm, which has been in the family for more than 100 years, having been deeded by the government to his grandfather. Surviving is his only daughter, Mrs. John W. Wall, the former Miss Mary Ellen Greer, who, with Mr. Wall, has made her home with him since the death of Mrs. Greer, September 11, 1926. Mrs. Wall is the fourth generation to live on the farm.

One of Mr. Greer's aunts was the first woman to be married in Pettis county about 107 years ago. In the original land grant there was approximately 300 acres. The present farm contains 1,700 acres. Born January 27, 1865, he was the son of David and Orpha Swope Greer. He was married at his home on January 24, 1906, to Miss Nellie Aubushon, of Longwood, Mo.

Surviving besides his daughter are three brothers, David Greer, of Houstonia, Ernest Greer, of Hughesville, and G. H. Greer, of Olathe, Kas.

Mr. Greer was a member of the Bethlehem Christian church near his home and at the time of his death was a deacon.

The body was brought to Gillespie's funeral home. Funeral arrangements have not been made.

It was four days before I took a deep breath."

Brazilian In A Visit To Pettis County On Tour

Personal Item: Luiz Albuquerque, of Pernambuco, Brazil, has been visiting in Sedalia and Pettis county the past week.

Items like that may become commonplace in the newspaper of the future era of world-wide air transportation. But even today visitors from foreign countries seem to search out Pettis county for observation.

Luiz Albuquerque has spent his time here visiting local packing plants and farms seeking information regarding poultry processing and production. On his farm visits he has been accompanied by County Agent J. U. Morris. He carries his end of conversation in fair English that indicates close study of this language.

The Brazilian is one of sixteen of his countrymen spending a year in the United States familiarizing themselves with modern methods of operation of farm enterprises. What they learn here they expect to apply in Brazil's development.

Impressed By Methods

One of the unusual situations the visitor said he observed was the manner in which midwestern farmers manage and work on their own farms with modern machinery and a minimum of farm labor. In Brazil the manager does not assist in the labor but must direct the work of hundreds of manual laborers using old-fashioned implements to till the ground and harvest the crops.

Luiz Albuquerque spent five months in Texas, he has been to Columbia to confer with Missouri University Agricultural Department experts. He plans to make an extensive tour of this state and then go to New England for further observations before returning to his native land.

Manslaughter Charge On Driver

An affidavit for state warrant charging manslaughter against William C. Walker, of Bolivar, driver of the trailer-truck which struck and fatally injured Oren S. Brown Tuesday afternoon, has been filed in the court of Judge A. M. Harlan, justice of the peace, Leo J. Harned, prosecuting attorney, said Friday night.

On Friday afternoon, a coroner's jury held an inquest at Gillespie's funeral home and rendered the verdict that Brown met his death "On account of culpable negligence of one William C. Walker, who was driver of the truck which struck Oren Brown."

Members of the jury, which viewed the body Wednesday at the funeral home, were Joe Cashman, foreman, J. B. Russell, T. B. Woodward, F. A. Ahrens, Thomas Garst and R. F. Harris.

Trip For Soldier-Of-The-Month

A three-day pass—the kind you dream about—will be offered to a soldier, selected by his Section Commander for the SAAF Soldier-of-the-month. After nomination by his Section Commander, the GI must appear before a board of officers, who will determine whether he is best qualified for the honor.

The lucky GI will be flown from SAAF to Kansas City, where he will be met at the airport by the Mayor, City Manager, City officials of the Kansas City Canteen, and a group of TWA hostesses.

Special courtesies will be accorded to each month's contest winner upon his arrival. Red Cross Helps Restore Purse

The thought the American Red Cross Pettis County Chapter could assist in locating a soldier who had the misfortune of losing his wallet, containing his furlough papers, money, and transportation, brought results Tuesday morning. The soldier, desperately looking along the highway for his wallet, in hopes of finding it, was notified; he regained his lost possessions and is now on his way back to Camp Chaffee, and will not be A.W.O.L.

Early in the morning Mrs. Geo. Griffin, Smithton, called Mrs. Robert Spencer, executive secretary of the local chapter of Red Cross, and informed her the wallet had been found by her son. She told Mrs. Spencer the soldier's name, and the address in the wallet.

Mrs. Spencer dispatched one of the Red Cross service workers on the case. The worker went to the home and learned the soldier was searching the highway east of Sedalia en route to Tipton hoping to find the wallet. The worker then returned to the Red Cross headquarters and immediately started phoning along the highway, and the young man was overtaken at Tipton. When he called to inquire about the message, he was told where he could obtain his lost possessions. He returned to Smithton, and expressed his gratitude to Mrs. Griffin and the Red Cross for their assistance in helping him.

Drama And Bedlam As FDR Nominated

a second speech by Vice President Henry A. Wallace, adopt a platform and wait for Mr. Roosevelt's acceptance address by radio tonight.

And they still had to settle a spectacular, see-sawing battle over whose name will go on the ticket with Roosevelt's. Wallace himself was trying to repeat and was putting up a stiff scrap.

But Senator Harry Truman of Missouri, like Wallace, was gaining some support. And Barkley, too, was in the race.

There wasn't any suspense left in the Presidential candidate picking. It long since had been determined that Mr. Roosevelt would try to make it a total of 16 unprecedented years in the White House.

Broke With President

But there was drama in the fact that Barkley, the majority leader of the senate, offered the chief executive's name to the convention. For it was the Kentuckian who, a few short months ago, broke with the President over a tax bill veto.

And there he stood today, twin rivulets of perspiration cascading down his cheeks into a confluence beneath his chin, to roar:

"I present to this assembly for the office of President of these United States the name of one who is endowed with the intellectual boldness of Thomas Jefferson, the indomitable courage of Andrew Jackson, the faith and patience of Abraham Lincoln, the rugged integrity of Grover Cleveland, and the scholarly vision of Woodrow Wilson—Franklin Delano Roosevelt."

He termed the chief executive a leader "unsurpassed if ever equalled."

Doesn't Neglect GOP

Nor did he neglect the Republicans. In their platform, he said, "they neither fly nor light, they hover." He said it was a platform that "looks in all directions and sees nothing."

In the whirl of Vice Presidential maneuvering, Truman, who had been saying he wasn't running, finally brought his campaign into the open by declaring himself "in the race."

"And," he said, "I'm going to win."

Wallace backers had other ideas; and they saw their man picking up new support.

Caught somewhere in the eddies was Senate Majority Leader Alben W. Barkley, holding aloft a Roosevelt nominating speech which, his friends hoped, would rescue his own chances for second place on the 1944 ticket.

Before the Barkley oratory, delegates loosened up their vocal cords by cheering a suggestion of their permanent chairman, Senator Samuel Jackson of Indiana, that a defeat for Roosevelt would be a boon to the Axis.

Predicts Peace In 4 Years

Chicago convention delegates by telling them they are "aware of what I have sought to gain for the nation, and you have asked me to continue."

"It seems wholly likely," he said, "that within the next four years our armed forces, and those of our Allies, will have gained a complete victory over Germany and Japan, and that the world once more will be at peace—under a system, we hope, which will prevent a new world war."

"In any event, new hands will then have full opportunity to realize the ideals which we seek."

Some of his listeners read into the last sentence a hint that the fourth term nomination would be the last for the man who, four years ago, cracked the national tradition of two terms with his election to 12 years in the White House.

Wanted To Stay

There was a moment's eerie hush as the last echo of Mr. Roosevelt's voice faded. The organ struck up the National Anthem, soon the words were pouring from every throat and a spotlight played on a tremendous flag in the lofty stadium girders.

But when Chairman Samuel Jackson banged his gavel, apparently to entertain a motion for adjournment until tomorrow, the delegates would have none of it.

They acted as if they wanted to vote on a Vice Presidential choice right then.

Up in the balconies came a cry: "We want Wallace." It was picked up on the floor by dozens of delegates.

Posters backing Henry A. Wallace for another nomination seemed to leap into unraised hands. So for the first time, did placards in large numbers appear for Senator Harry Truman of Missouri.

Thongs tumbled into the aisles and attempted to parade.

Twenty minutes later Jackson hammered through a motion to hold off until tomorrow a decision on the hotly-contested race in which Truman was in a stretch drive to catch hard-running Wallace. It certainly wasn't popular, but the crowd had to go home.

Co-Premiers For Japan

problems whereby the entire nation will be given full opportunity to give vent to their irresistible enthusiasm to contribute to the nation's all-out war efforts."

Tojo In Eclipse

Tojo, Japan's dictatorial leader for two and one-half years, was in total eclipse. A week ago the holder of several of the nation's top jobs, he first gave up his post of chief of the army general staff, then resigned as premier and war minister and finally, as an aftermath of the shake-up, was removed from the presidency of the imperial Japanese association of the Japanese fascist party.

Japan's Axis partner Germany, after being silent for hours on the Tokyo shakeup, finally took this official stand, attributed to a Berlin foreign office spokesman and broadcast by the Berlin radio:

"Berlin welcomes the Japanese intention of forming a new government on the broadest possible basis. Military setbacks call for very intensive efforts, as is well known to Berlin."

The Japanese shake-up was far-reaching. The Tojo cabinet's resignation was followed by that of Eiji Amano, Japan's head propagandist, as chief of the Japanese information board, and half a dozen lesser officials who normally would not necessarily be ousted with a change of administration.

Democratic Platform Favors U. S. Joining Union Of Nations

an international organization. Based on the principles of the sovereign equality of all peace-loving states, open to membership by all such states, large and small, for the prevention of aggression and the maintenance of international peace and security.

All Effective Agreements

"To make all necessary and effective agreements and arrangements through which the nations would maintain adequate forces to meet the needs of preventing war and of making impossible the preparation for war and which would have such forces available for joint action when necessary."

"Such organization must be endowed with power to employ armed forces when necessary to prevent aggression and preserve peace."

"We favor the maintenance of an international court of justice of which the United States shall be a member and the employment of diplomacy, conciliation, arbitration and other like methods where appropriate in the settlement of international disputes."

The platform pledged party support to the Atlantic Charter and the four freedoms—freedom of speech, freedom of worship, freedom from fear and freedom from want.

On domestic policy, the statement of party principles and philosophy embodied to a large degree the platform suggested by Democratic Chairman Robert E. Hannegan: "Franklin D. Roosevelt."

Smash 32 Miles Through German Lines

offensive three days ago west of Kowel, shattering German lines on a 94-mile front and reaching the Warsaw in a direct drive in Lublin and Warsaw. More than 400 towns and villages were captured on this front between imperilled Lwow and Brest Litovsk.

Rail Junctions Fall

A second order announced the fall of the rail junctions of Wlodzimierz, 33 miles southwest of Kowel, and Rawa Ruska, 35 miles northwest of Lwow. The stronghold of Lwow itself was being attacked frontally by Red army troops with sight of the citadel.

The capture of Rawa Ruska represented a 21-mile advance in 24 hours, cut the Germans' Lublin-Lwow supply railway, and put the mobile Russians within 45 miles of Jaroslau, another rail city on the Lwow-Krakow-Dreslau trunk line only 168 miles from German Silesia.

Berlin said Red armies in the north, attacking west of Grodno, had reached Augustow, only a two-hour march from German East Prussia. Augustow is just below the Suwalki triangle which Germany annexed to East Prussia in the 1939 partition of Poland, and is eight miles east of the border of East Prussia proper.

Acknowledge Reverse

German broadcasts acknowledged the serious reverse on the front west of Kowel, saying, "The bulk of German formations" crossed the central Bug, leaving rear guards to protect the retreat.

Among the 400 localities captured in the new offensive was Opalin, 45 miles west-northwest of Kowel.

Drop 'White Supremacy' Fight

CHICAGO, July 20.—(P)—

Southerners suddenly dropped their fight for a white supremacy plank today after the Democratic platform committee turned them down cold.

"We have exhausted every means at our power; we have run out of steam," said former Governor Dan Moody of Texas, a leader in the bitter southern fight against the committee's platform racial plank.

Moody said the platform fight would not be taken to the convention floor. It could not, he explained, because the signatures of only eight states could be obtained for a minority report. Twelve signatures are necessary to do this, a study of the rules showed.

Hitler Singed, Bruised

and Von Puttkamer, Captain Assmann, and Lt. Col. Borgmann.

"The Fuehrer himself suffered no injuries except light burns and bruises. He has immediately resumed his work and, as scheduled, received the Duce (Benito Mussolini) for a lengthy conversation. A short time after the attempt, the Reichsmarschal (Hermann Goering) arrived to see the Fuehrer."

The German account did not mention where the attempt was made, or at what hour. It was quick to emphasize, however, that Hitler was not hurt seriously, although admitting he was burned and bruised slightly.

Surrounded By Aides

The German story left the implication that the attempt was made during a meeting of Hitler and his highest and most trusted military aides.

It is quite likely that only a person or persons in very high position would know Hitler's whereabouts and be able to gain access with sufficient explosives to injure so many men.

The No. 2 Nazi, Reichsmarschal Hermann Goering, was absent at the critical moment—just as he was in the Munich Beer-Hall bombing of Nov. 8, 1939, in which Hitler barely escaped, and as he was during the historic Reichstag fire of 1933.

As on those occasions, Goering hurried to the scene immediately afterward.

Sports Roundup

By Hugh Fullerton, Jr.

NEW YORK, July 20.—(P)—If you hang around with major leaguers, you'll hear plenty of tall tales about the "good old days" in baseball and how kids used to be happy to play with a home made ball on a field grubbed out of a briar patch.

And likely as not you'll hear that kids nowadays have to be pampered and won't play under conditions that the old-timers regarded as normal.

In controversy of such statements, we present the following letter from Wandell Lalime, the Newport, Vt., sports scribe.

Read It and Weep

"I thought you might like to hear about the game the Baron Town baseball team played at East Hardwick the other day," writes Wendell.

"Barton lost the game, 18 to 13, but the score does not necessarily indicate poor playing on either side. The condition of the playing field, which was a cow pasture, was accountable for the high score and many errors."

The cows were not around at the time, but there was evidence that they had been there that morning. A hit ball which would look like an easy out would hit a bump and bounce over the player's head, far out of quick retrieving. Even the catchers had to run over a knoll after foul balls.

Special Talents

"The fence which surrounded the pasture was another bad feature," Lalime further explains. "Balls hit through the fence would go for a home run, which on any good pasture would not have gone for a double."

Some of our Vermont ball players know how to hurdle the barbed wire enclosures, and in most cases of this nature a hit over the fence doesn't go for a homer unless you can make it. There were five pitchers, who had their troubles, too. They couldn't see the plate.

The cows hadn't got around to do any grazing in that particular spot. Well, Barton collected 16 hits, Hardwick 24 hits; nearly every player on both teams hit safely over, under or through the fence.

No Apologies Needed

"But don't let this yarn fool you. Some of the most picturesque ball parks in America are to be found in Vermont, and Gardner Park in Newport has a top-ranking diamond. Barton's home field is located at the county fair grounds. Some of the small communities, however, are not as fortunate and improvised diamonds are not uncommon."

Women Take Major Share Of Attention At Convention

CHICAGO, July 20.—(P)—

The women took over a major share of attention at the Democratic national convention today, their role ever so important in a year when their political strength is at record peak.

Streamlined Mrs. Helen Gahagan Douglas, actress-politician and Democratic nominee for congress from the Fourteenth California district, tonight will address the delegates, the second woman to have such an invitation at this convence.

Petite, brown-eyed Mrs. Charles W. Tillett of North Carolina, assistant chairman of the national committee and head of the women's division, told the convention last night that women throughout the nation have deep hopes for a victorious and lasting peace and prosperity which she said could be had by keeping Democrats in power.

Mrs. Mary T. Norton of New Jersey, guest at a breakfast given by national committeewomen celebrating her twentieth year in congress, told the six other Democratic women candidates for the house that "we are much wiser politically than we were at the time the suffrage amendment was adopted."

In her convention speech, Mrs. Tillett declared that "the hearts of our women are overseas but they are doing their thinking here." She has a son in the army.

Countering the "GI Jim" speech made by Rep. Clare Booth Luce of Connecticut to the Republican convention, Mrs. Tillett said that the rise of Axis leaders was followed by events "over which we had no control, this war could not have been avoided."

"I believe that the hearts of American women recoil at the tragedy they fear would result if the grand strategy of the future of this war should suddenly be placed in the hands of inexperience," Mrs. Tillett asserted.

"The one thing I have found agreement on among all women is that there shall come out of this war a peace that will endure," she said.

NEW YORK, July 20.—(P)—The league-leading St. Louis Cardinals increased their lead over the second place Cincinnati Reds to 13 games, their highest of the season, by taking both ends of a double header from the New York Giants, 10-2 and 6-2, today, before 18,824 paid admissions.

BROOKLYN, July 20.—(P)—The Cincinnati Reds found Calvin no puzzle today as they connected with timely hits to whip the Brooklyn Dodgers 6 to 0 behind the steady eight-hit hurling veteran Harry Gumbert.

PHILADELPHIA, July 29.—(P)—The Phillies won the second game of a swing shift double header, 3 to 2, today on Ford Mullen's 11th inning single with the bases loaded, after losing the first game 4 to 1 before a crowd of 7,309.
